“ I spent a large part of my childhood at the Morgan home. I vividly remember walking up the back steps after school (Armstrong) and smelling some of the most tantalizing aromas coming from her kitchen. I remember sitting at the end of the sofa closest to the kitchen entrance because she would always announce “It’s ready “.. Man I don’t care what she cooked she performed magic in her kitchen. I will miss her and wish to give my condolences to Kreg Greg Angie and Mr Carl.

Thank you Spence. I’ve never met anyone else yet that could “rattle some pots” like mom! One of her favorite things to do was to prepare, cook & watch everyone enjoy her meals. I wish I would have realized just how much time, effort & love it required to do that so many years of her life without a single complaint. Also wish I would have inherited her gift Bc she didn’t have a single recipe.

“ The loss of a parent at any age is traumatic. It is then however, that you learn their significance in your life if you didn’t already. Our only consolation is that we will be reunited with them for eternity with Christ our Savior. That hope is what you cling to on the hardest days.
My thoughts and prayers are with all of you.
