“ To All of the Haure family.
We are very sorry for your loss and understand the hardship and empty feelings. Clara looked after our mother a number of years ago before hospice was available and offered extreme caring help, to all but, particularly to our mother and father. After our mother passed she helped our father and continued to be a friend of the family.

She touched many outside of her family in addition to us. Clara's family was of great importance to her.
