“ My condolences to the family on the loss of your loved one. The sting of death is very painful. But when you throw all your pain on God (Psalm 83:18), He will comfort you and carry that pain for you. So draw close to God in prayer and He will draw close to you in return.(James 4:8)

“ He was someone who would open up his home, his life, and his heart for you. He was an amazing person who loved no matter what. He was always there waiting. He loved me and my family so much. A friend, a companion, a grandfather, and a dad. He taught my son to take his first steps, fly his first kite, catch his first fish, since he was 3 months old teach him to crawfish in the boat. He was his best friend and adored him more than anyone. The bond they had was so beautiful. No matter what he was always there to be a paw to my son. Attended his field trips at school. They were each other's heart. Although our hearts are broken we will hold onto our memory of just days ago standing outside flying the kite watching it soar in the sky. That was the last day we all spent together. Although our hearts are broken and we are so lost we know we will all be together in the kingdom one day. We will Love you forever. And no one could ever replace what we all had with you.
