“ I'll always remember Eric simply because he was very sweet & he loved to sing at church. One Sunday he sat by me at church and we were standing to sing, Eric turned to me and smiled then he handed to me a cross on a string. I said, " Eric is that for me, he smiled and shook his head yes." I cherish his kindness and love.

Eric

Now you are free to fly, your parents and Michael were waiting for you.

A truly great guy!! He always greeted people with a smile and a pat on the shoulder. An avid LSU fan and he loved to fish. He also collected fishing rods and tackle. Eric will truly be missed.

What can I say about Eric.... well I'm not going to talk about the memories to much but as how I saw Eric. I have know Eric since I was about 10 years old. Eric wasn't perfect , none of us are. But in my eyes he was as perfect as God could make you on the inside. He saw no fault, he didn't judge, he loved unconditionally, he shared his smile, he shared his love, and he loved church, God, family , and friends. You may have saw Eric in church singing but what you probably didn't see was that his hymnal was on the wrong page and upside down, though he sang and worshipped God anyway. When that preacher spoke he always looked straight ahead. Do I know if he understood everything or not, no I don't, but he said his amen's and shook his head yes as the preacher spoke.. I believe God spoke to Eric every church service weather it through the preacher or in Eric's own mind. I have no doubt in my mind that Eric is in Heaven and he is completely perfect now. We should all see the world through Eric's eyes and heart. Oh how happy we would all be and what a better place our world would be. So I thank God for blessing me with knowing Eric Low. God bless all of you ! Love always Shaunta!!!
