“ Kermit was like a father to me. He taught me so much about x-ray and life. He taught me how to play golf and even made me my own golf clubs. He loved his family very much. I am sorry life got in the way and we drifted apart. Kermit will always be in my heart. I will miss you. My prayers are with his family. I love you Kermit.

“ Kermit was a big brother to me. He taught me more about X-ray than I learned in school. He was a mentor, but more importantly, he was my friend. We golfed together. He showed me how to use a computer. He was there when my daughter was born. I am heartbroken. I'm sirry we drifted apart. He loved his family, especially his grandchildren. Goodbye my old friend.

Kermit was a high school classmate of mine. George and I were happy to see him after many years when George's father was in the hospital. He was so very kind and his humor eased a difficult situation for us. Through our class reunion activities we were introduced to his wonderful photography. He seemed to make life a little better for those lucky enough to cross his path.

I am very sorry to hear of Kermit's death. I have fond memories of working with Kermit at OLOL. He was an excellent tech who had your back when working with patients. He had a huge heart and a gregarious personality. Our earthly loss is heaven's gain.
