“ My heart breaks for all of you, losing someone who means the world to you is never easy. Keeping ahold onto all the wonderful memories each of you have of Mr Ray will help to ease some of your heartache. I can promise you that my dad was there to greet him, with a smile on his face and a beer in his hand, we all now have two wonderful guardian angels to watch over us. Mr Ray may you now rest in peace and know that you will be missed and loved by so many.

“ Connie
I realize there are no words of comfort at this time. My heart absolutely breaks for you and your family. Through the pain, the sadness, the crying, the fear, the anxiety, the loneliness and the yearning to hug him just once more, I will pray that God fills your heart with His grace, love and peace. The grace of God will carry you through this. And I know as humans, we are very selfish, we don't want to let go, the separation is so unbearable. But I somehow hope you can take comfort in knowing that Ray is in the Lord's glorious Kingdom!!! He is rejoicing now! Serving our Lord with all the glory, power and honor... Celebrate Ray's life! And look for comfort, in John 14. With my deepest sorrows, “ Oh Ms Connie and family: I was sadden to hear OF Mr Ray's death.

I remember when living near your home and you guys couldn't get the cow, horses, and mules to come home. Kasha would go to the fense and call them and they would come to her instead of going home. Finally one day he asked me if Kasha would call them home for him because they wouldn't listen to him anymore. He said that mean bull was stubborn and he didn't trust him. The mule would bite but little did he know they had a love for Kasha. For some reason they would only listen to her and never was aggressive toward her. She got hung up on the fence line one day and all the horses and cows were calling acting strange. So I looked outside and she was stuck. So I went out and helped her down. Once done you could see the sign of relief in each one of the animals eyes. So she gave them all a hug, carrots, and apples. Mr Ray always said don't trust them but, he never knew how much they loved her until that day when we told him that story.

I will always remember him as a joker and loved to see a smile on another person's face. Loving person who would do anything to help another person. He had a love for life and his beer. Had great love for his family and friends.

*Now you're with your Mom and Gail!
RIP MR RAY! Will always love you!*

“ So sorry for yalls loss. Yall are all in my thoughts. What a great man Ray was. A huge light has gone out. But his suffering is over. Now he can join my dad who is probably waiting with a horse and a beer and a thank you for all the times Ray was there for me when I was younger. I gained so much from him and am forever grateful. Now they can all start their big ride. I loved those days. Love you all. If any of you need anything don't hesitate. Love and condolences
