“ My husband, Dallas Simon, Jr. talked of him often. Sadly Dallas passed away this past Friday in Houston, Texas. I am thinking they were in the Marines together. Sorry for your loss.

“ I remember the first time I met Sherman, before he hired me. "I'll be the best looking guy at the airport-" his directions on how to find him. He orchestrated the design and construction of the state of the art Advertiser production facility in Lafayette, installing cutting edge technology- the second shaftless newspaper printing press in the United States. The facility served the region well over the next 20 years. We stayed in touch for several years after I left. I admired his toughness and appreciated his friendship and humor. Prayers to his family, and God bless.

“ Sherman and I worked together at The Advertiser for many years. He was such a kind, loving friend...one of my best friends for many years. He, Charlie Lenox and I shared many a laugh and even a few tears through the years. He is now at peace and joins his beloved wife in heaven. RIP Sherm!

“ My name is Clevon Trahan and as far as I know we were not related. When I first came to live in Rayne , in the 5th. grade, Sherman became my best friend and remained so until high school. I remember going to his house many times to play with him and all of the kids our age who lived next door to him. It was a fun time in our lives. We were classmates in high school and remained friends. I had not seen Sherman for many years. I always looked for him at class reunions, but he did not attend. I live in Lake Charles and was unable to extend our relationship over the years. I offer my condolences to the family for their lost in all of the unfortunate recent family deaths.

Respectfully

Clevon Trahan
